JUSTAS DOVYDAITIS

Hi! Thanks for your time! I am looking to fill an entry level position of front-end or embedded systems developer.

Always pursuing to write clean code so that future me or others could easily understand it. Recently, I have spent some time on project with ESP32 microcontroller and... I found it interesting and fun and I want to dive a bit deeper into embedded systems. I also enjoy developing front-end.So, I can be a full stack developer, but I prefer only one of the ends.

Looking for employer that sees and values not only currently held knowledge, but also given effort to improve personal skills. So if you are that kind of employer, we'll get along.
